

CORE ETHICAL VALUES OF SOUTH LYON AREA RECREATION AUTHORITY

The core ethical values of South Lyon Area Recreation Authority (SLARA) describe the beliefs that direct the Authority in all that it does.

- “Excellence With a Personal Touch” is a working principle guiding our action.
- High quality is inherent in all that SLARA does.
- We have a commitment to improve the quality of life for all our citizens.
- We have a commitment to be responsible managers of community resources; human resources by promoting growth, satisfaction and empowerment; financial resources by operating with a balanced budget and investing in the future; physical resources by maintaining access to high quality physical facilities and equipment.
- We believe in “Recreation for All.” As the leading institution providing recreational services in the community, SLARA has the responsibility of providing access to all and ensuring that these opportunities are accessible.
- We have a commitment to being an activity-centered organization. We will help prepare our residents in every way possible to add regular recreational activities to their lives.
